What fraction of the school day does Tom's sister spend in history class?

Daddy: When does your sister go home? Does she study this morning or the whole day?

Tom: She studies math class, science class, and history class this morning and she doesn't study this afternoon.

Daddy: Oh, so she just studies a half day. Tom, I have a question for you: If the time spent in each class is the same, what fraction of the school day does your sister spend in history class?

..... day
