

The Tempest

Fill in the blanks

[.....]! [.....]! [.....]!

This is the tale I know

[.....] and youth and Kings and Fools

Brought together when the [.....] blows

Power! It's time to put right all the wrong

Justice! It's time to forgive now to move on

Freedom! Take a stand

And bring [.....] unto this land

[.....], a Duke and his innocent child (Miranda)

are marooned on an island and barely alive

Overthrown by his brother (Antonio) and the [.....] (Alonso)

All alone with [.....] this hideous thing

So Prospero he raises up a storm

Watches as the waves in the water rage strong

Scaring all the people who would try to do him wrong

But Ariel, his [.....] was watching all along

Hoping for [.....], maybe a change of fate

The magical sprite, was there to make them safe

Separated, scattered far and wide

The crew were all across the shores

Lost but very much alive!

Refrain

Power! It's time to put right all the wrong

Justice! It's time to forgive now to move on

Freedom! Who has power

After the storm has gone?

Power! It's time to put right all the wrong

Justice! It's time to forgive now to move on

Freedom! Take a stand and bring peace unto this land

Now Miranda's never met another [.....]

But her father has a plan for her to marry [.....]

(The King's son yeah)

They meet up and sure enough

They fall in [.....], right there on the sand

But Caliban's plan was to rule the land
Take away the [.....] from the magic man
He found two drunk fools who would help
But did they? No, they were useless louts
Meanwhile a feast of food appeared to the starving few
It was an illusion but they were truly fooled
Ariel appeared as a harpy shouting 'Shame on you'
'We were wrong' they cried 'to try and overthrow the [.....]'

Refrain

Power! It's time to put right all the wrong
Justice! It's time to forgive now to move on Freedom! Who has power
After the storm has gone?
Power! It's time to put right all the wrong
Justice! It's time to forgive now to move on Freedom! Take a stand and bring peace unto this land

So Prospero tried to gather all the people in his cave and to try to fix the mess
The king was sad, but saw his [.....] alive and well
Playing chess with the daughter of the Duke
He would see that they were in love, absolutely
'Their love is the future' Prospero cried
'Let's make amends, yes now is the time!'
So the Duke forgave his brother all his terrible [.....]
Ariel was released and was finally [.....]
The Duke gave up his magic, it's time to make peace
Then they sail across the sea from Caliban the beast
Left alone on his shore
The King of Sand!
Nothing more
