

INVERTEBRATE ANIMALS

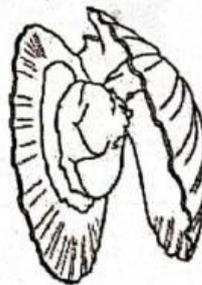

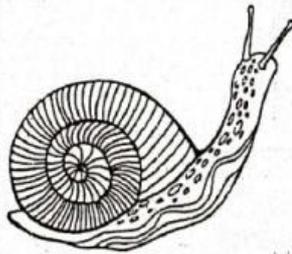

1.

- They are aquatic.
- They don't have body protection.
- They have a jelly body.
- They have a mouth and some tentacles to catch animals.

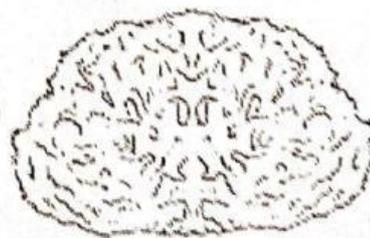

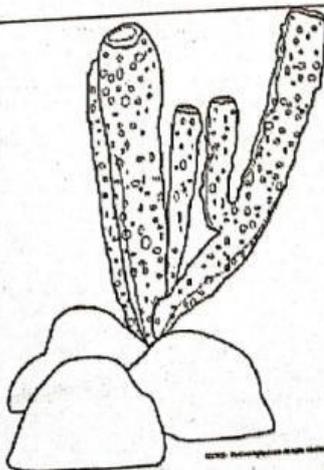

2.

- They can live in water and on lands.
- Most of them have body protection, a shell.
- Their bodies have three parts: arms, head and visceral mass.

3.

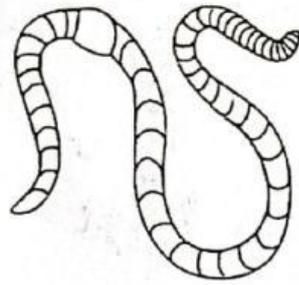

- They are aquatic.
- They don't have body protection.
- They breathe and eat through their pores.
- Respiration process is called diffusion.

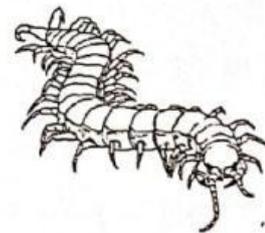

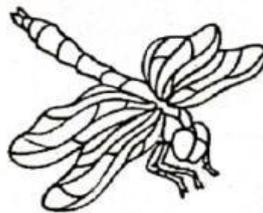

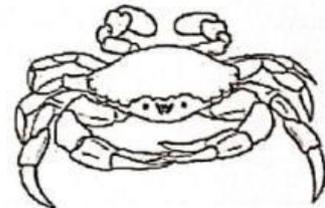

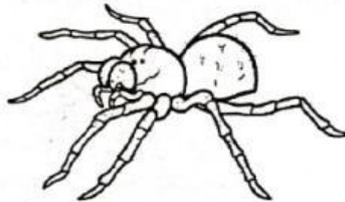

4.

- They can live in water and on land.
- They don't have body protection.
- They have a long, thin body with rings.
- They breathe with all their body.

5.

- They can live in water and land.
- They have an external protection called exoskeleton.
- Their body has three parts: head, thorax and abdomen.

6.

- They are aquatic animals.
- They have body protection, spiny plates.
- They don't have a head.
- They have little tentacles to move and eat.
- They breathe through gills.

