BURGLARS CAUGHT GREEN HANDED

Enraged giant is getting ready to come down in the beanstalk and wreak his revenge.

Boy scales beanstalk to burgle treasured belongings

During the early hours of Monday morning, the alleged burglar, who we know to be Jack, made his way up to the castle of the giant and stole gold, animals, and other valuable items. Due to the young boy's bad behavior, the crime against the giant's castle is thought to be a direct result of his lack of respect for the property of others. The deranged delinquent is believed to be roaming in the Honeypot woods. Police are still unclear whether he's working alone on this crime or with his mother.

Have you seen any unusual activity in your neighborhood? Do you keep your valuables under lock and key? Noticed large plants appeared suddenly? Pets disappeared?

Heard it on the Grapevine

Mrs . Poor, 47-year old widow and mother of Jack, explained how hard this has been on her. "He's a good boy," she cried.

During our interview, the severity of the crime was echoed by Sergeant Tony Woods. "It was brought to our attention that a burglary took place at the castle somewhere between 5am and 7am on Monday morning. We are finding the boy, last seen carrying an axe, heading towards the other side of the town. The suspect is not to be approached as he is considered dangerous.

Once upon a times view

Since 2012, serious crimes in Fairy Tale Land have gone up by 32%. Some of these awful crimes include stealing animals, taking precious metals, and having banned weapons. Our Fairy Tale Community (especially the east side of the forest) has been badly affected by this criminal.

The way forward

The woodland social services center should offer more counseling to upset Fairy Tale residents who are disturbed by nighttime crimes. It's important for everyone to work together to stay safe.

Don't plant any seeds without permission from the council, as they might be linked to the crimes. If you spot a barefoot boy holding an axe, call the police right away.

WHO'S BEEN TWEETING?

TommyMarket

Youngsters in our community R running riot. I know this lad and he is always involved in money make schemes - he sold a cow last week!
