

Name: _____
Class: _____
Date: _____

Instructions: Select one type of institution that best describes the case scenario.

Recreational Educational	Economic Political	Religious
-----------------------------	-----------------------	-----------

1. Electoral Commissions: Electoral commissions are responsible for organizing and conducting elections. They ensure the fairness, transparency, and integrity of the electoral process.
2. Sports Clubs: A local sports club organizes various sports activities such as soccer, basketball, and tennis. It provides opportunities for individuals to engage in physical exercise, develop teamwork skills, and compete in friendly matches.
3. Businesses: Businesses range from small enterprises to multinational corporations. They produce goods or provide services, create employment opportunities, and contribute to economic growth.
4. Gyms and Fitness Centers: These institutions provide fitness equipment, exercise classes, and personal training services to help individuals maintain their physical fitness and improve their overall well-being.
5. Religious Organizations: Religious organizations, such as religious orders, missionary groups, and interfaith organizations, engage in various religious and social activities. They promote religious teachings, charitable work, and community service.
6. Public and Private Schools: These institutions offer formal education to students from kindergarten to high school. They follow a structured curriculum and provide a learning environment for academic and personal growth.
7. Colleges and Universities: Colleges and universities provide higher education and offer a wide range of academic programs and degrees. They promote research, critical thinking, and professional development.
8. Local Government: Local government institutions, such as city councils or town boards, are responsible for making decisions and implementing policies at the local level. They address issues related to public services, infrastructure development, and community welfare.
9. Political Parties: Political parties are organizations that represent different ideologies and compete for political power. They play a vital role in shaping public opinion, mobilizing voters, and influencing policy agendas.
10. Adult Education Programs: Adult education programs cater to the learning needs of adults, including vocational training, language courses, and continuing education. They support lifelong learning and skill enhancement.
11. Financial Institutions: Financial institutions, such as banks, credit unions, and investment firms, facilitate the flow of capital, provide financial services, and support economic transactions.
12. Trade Associations: Trade associations represent specific industries or sectors and work to promote the interests of their members. They provide a platform for collaboration, advocacy, and knowledge sharing.

13. Places of Worship: Churches, mosques, temples, and synagogues are places of worship where individuals gather for religious ceremonies, prayers, and community activities_____.
14. Religious Education Institutions: These institutions provide religious education and training to individuals, such as Sunday schools, seminaries, and religious colleges_____.
15. Town or County Recreation Departments: These departments offer a wide range of recreational programs and facilities for community members. They may organize events like summer camps, swimming lessons, and fitness classes to promote an active and healthy lifestyle._____