Hi, Monica!

How are you? I am writing to tell you about an animated film I saw last night. It was How to train your dragon: The hidden World. I really enjoyed it! It was really exciting and the music was amazing, too! I didn't use to like animated films, but now I love them!

The actor Jay Baruchel does the voice of Hiccup, the hero of the film! I think Jay is fantastic; he's my favourite actor! I really loved everything about this film. There was a lot of action and the story was very interesting. What I liked most was the special effects. They were out of this world! If you want to watch it, let me know! I don't mind watching it again!

Take care,
Sue
