Read the passage and choose the correct answer A, B, C or D for each of the following questions.

Natural resources are the useful things that occur naturally in the environment. Some examples are oil, water and trees. Humans use natural resources for every part of their lives, so we all must be careful to use them wisely.

Resources can be divided into renewable and non-renewable resources. The difference is whether the resource recovers naturally over time. Renewable resources are usually living things like animals or plants. For example, trees are a renewable resource because they grow soon again after we cut them down. But oil is a non-renewable resource because it takes millions of years to form again. We must try to save the non-renewable resources because once they are used up, we cannot get more. Natural resources can be traded between countries. They can create a lot of wealth for resource rich countries. For example, Saudi Arabia, Iran, and Kuwait in Middle East have a large amount of petroleum. They export it to other countries and make good money.

Question 33. What is the main idea of the passage?

- A. Different resources can be sold to other countries for money.
- B. Natural resources are important for us, so we must save the ones that are limited.
- C. There are resources we do not know about.
