Trip to the museum

My name's Harry. Last week my teacher took our class to The Museum of Science. It's a huge building in the city. We went by bus because it wasn't as expensive as the train. Before we went inside, the teacher gave us a map of the museum and said 'It's half past nine now. Come and find me here as half past eleven. And don't be late!' I didn't have a watch but my friend, Oliver, did. We went to explore.

There were lots of exciting things everywhere. I thought the information about racing cars was really interesting. I found a quiz about planets and wanted to do it with Oliver but he wasn't interested at all. He looked at his map and saw that there were some models of spaceships in the basement so we went and found them. They were amazing! But the best thing at the museum was an enormous rocket. You could go inside it! Then we went into the museum shop. I asked Oliver if I could borrow some money because I didn't have any with me. We couldn't decide what to buy. In the end I got a ruler for my brother with a picture of an astronaut on it and Oliver got a fan for his little sister.

Then Oliver looked at his watch. We were late! We ran to the exit and looked for our teacher. He wasn't there. Suddenly we saw the bus. All our classmates were looking through the window and laughing and waving. But our teacher was standing in front of it and he wasn't laughing!
