

Match each main event to the corresponding detail.

Annemarie and Ellen Play with Dolls	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	She suggests using her father's black ink to dye the shoes, which Kirsti agrees to if they can be shiny.
Kirsti's Displeasure with Fish Shoes	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	She is upset about her new shoes made from fish skin, considering them ugly because of their green color.
Ellen Offers a Solution	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	She explains that she is preparing for the Jewish New Year, offering Kirsti the opportunity to see her mother light candles.
Kirsti Joins the Play	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	Her father comforts Ellen and Annemarie, telling them to act like sisters if soldiers arrive and saying that he's proud of having "three daughters."
Kirsti Recalls Explosions	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	She remembers explosions in the sky from her birthday, believing they were fireworks. In reality, the explosions were from the Danes destroying their naval fleet to prevent German use.
Ellen's New Year Celebration	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	She stays with Annemarie's family as her parents need to leave suddenly, seemingly to visit relatives.
Ellen Stays with Annemarie	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	They are playing with paper dolls on the living room floor, giving the dolls names from "Gone With the Wind."
The Synagogue Lists Are Collected	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	Annemarie finds out that Ellen's parents have gone into hiding, aided by Peter to avoid relocation.
Ellen's Parents Go into Hiding	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	She joins Annemarie and Ellen's doll play and is given the role of Scarlett's daughter Bonnie.
Annemarie's Father Offers Comfort	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	Annemarie's father reveals that the Nazis have collected synagogue lists containing the names and addresses of all the Danish Jews.