Greeting

a. Definition of Greeting

Greetings are the expression that is almost always used by people when they meet someone, either known or unknown people. The greeting is usually used at the beginning of a conversation.

b. Social Function of Greeting

A function of greeting to show attention is usually delivered to family, kin, friends, and so on. Next, the function of greeting to respect is usually conveyed to the teacher, lecturer, parents, and so on. Then, besides to show attention and to respect, to maintain a relationship is also the function of greeting. By delivering greetings, the people will know that the relationship among them runs well.

c. Types of Greetings

1. Formal Greetings

Formal greetings are greetings delivered in formal contexts that are identical to speech and greetings that promote good manners. In addition, formal greetings do not use slang language.

Formal Greeting	Responses
Hello	Hello
Good Morning/ Good afternoon/ Good evening	Good Morning/ Good afternoon/ Good evening
How are you?	I am fine, thank you
How are you doing? How is Everything?	I'm doing well, thank you. Everything is fine, thank you
How do you do (first meeting) Nice to meet you.	How do you do

2. Informal Greetings

Informal greetings are the greetings that can be used when we are in a relaxed situation, for example when meeting peers, at rest, during holidays, etc.

Informal Greeting	Responses
What's up?	Pretty well
It's good to see you. / Good to see you	Good to see you too
How are you?	Ok, not bad.
How are things with you?	It's pretty good, thanks
How is it going?	Not bad, thanks

Note:

- Good morning digunakan dari jam 00.00 s/d 12.00 (Jam 00 dini hari sampai dengan 12 siang)
- Good day/noon diucapkan jam 12.00
- Good afternoon digunakan dari setelah jam 12.00 s/d 18.0
- Good Evening dipakai dari jam 18.00 s/d 24.00(00.00)
- Good night digunakan untuk mengucapkan selamat berpisah/selamat tidur.
