On last Wednesday, I've got unforgettable experience. The day before, I played game on-line until 00.00 am. Because of that I woke up late. It was about 7.30 am and the class would be started at 8.00 am. I ran to bathroom to take a bath. I used to have breakfast before leaving home, but on that day It was impossible.

I always rode motorcycle to go. But what an amazing thing happened, I forgot where I put the key. So, I went to campus by public transportation. Of course, it took longer time. I arrived at 8.15 am, I hurried to get to class but I saw my lecturer standing in front of the class to teach. I entered my classroom and you know what, he was angry to me and didn't let me join his material.

It was my bad experience and I hoped I would not do that again.

16. What can we learn from the text ?

Insert your debit card into the ATM. Mobile banking cards come in two varieties — debit cards and credit cards. Debit cards are most frequently used in ATMs; they're linked to the exact amount you have in your bank account

Practice basic safety procedures. People using ATMs will occasionally be targets of robberies and other crimes, so you'll want to be sure to be safe Withdraw money. You can withdraw money for almost any ATM, regardless of the associated bank (though this may incur fees).

Follow the prompts to end your session. Once you've completed your transaction, you'll have to follow the on-screen prompts in order to exit out and get your card back Select your language. Most ATMs will offer transactions in several different languages, usually at least three or more dependent on where you live.

Enter your PIN when prompted. "PIN" stands for "personal identification number," and it's typically a four- to six-digit password people use to access their bank account. Enter your PIN number when asked to by the machine, making sure to shield the pad with your hand so that nearby onlookers can't see it.
