Indirect Object

The indirect object is the person or thing "for whom" the verb is being done.

Example:

Bob gave Steven a cookie.

In the above example "cookie" is the Direct Object while "Steven" is the Indirect Object.

The "cookie" is what is being given while "Steven" is who the cookie is for.

Question 4

Identify the Indirect Object in each sentence by rewriting it in the box provided.

4.1 Bashar built Maria a house.
4.2 Karam brought Mohamed a chair.
4.3 Abdulla gave the horse a slap.
4.4 Mariah told Katya a secret.
4.5 The president offered the soldier a medal.
4.6 The inventor assembled us a new machine.
4.7 Khaled brings Mr. Morales a glass of water.
4.8 The chef baked his family a cake.
4.9 Harold gives Mary advice.
4.10 Saeed bought himself a new car.

LIVEWORKSHEETS