The perfect picture

Last fall I was helping my sister find a photographer for her wedding. I was looking at wedding photographs online when I saw my first sakura picture. Sakura, or cherry blossoms, are light pink flowers that bloom in the spring on cherry trees. The flowers are very beautiful and very popular in wedding photos in Japan. In fact, the sakura flowers are very popular with everyone in Japan.

After my sister's wedding, I needed a relaxing vacation. I decided to visit Tokyo and see the cherry blossoms. I booked a week in a hotel at the end of April. I bought a new camera and looked online for the best places to see the trees. I arrived safely and checked into a clean, comfortable hotel. I slept well and got ready for my first day of sakura photography.

Then the problems started. Even though it was morning when I arrived at Inokashira Park, it was already very busy. Large families were having picnics. Couples were on dates. I couldn't get near the trees. My pictures were a disaster. At the end of the day, I went back to my hotel feeling pretty sad. But when I was looking at my photos that evening, I found one picture of a little boy looking at the flowers. He was laughing. It was a great picture.

The next day I returned to Inokashira Park, but this time I only took pictures of people. I spoke to people who I thought looked interesting – people with colorful hats, or unusual hair, or nice faces – and I asked to take their picture with the flowers. I had fun and I met lots of friendly people. Now when I look at my sakura pictures, I remember the cherry blossoms, but I also remember the stories.
