Lisa is introducing her old friend to her co-worker as they meet by chance in a coffee shop. Listen to their conversation.

A: Hey Tim!

B: Hey Lucy! What a nice surprise?

A: I know! This is my friend Mia. She just moved to Saskatchewan from Alberta.

B: Oh wow! We don't have any mountains here and we don't have as many animals either.

C: Well, I'm still interested to know which animals live in Saskatchewan.

B: Well, there is the white-tailed deer.

C: Yes, that's the provincial animal, right? It would be cool to see one! Have you ever seen one, Lucy?

A: Of course! I also have seen a bison in the wild.

C: That's amazing! I have heard that bison can run faster than horses.

B: Really?! I didn't know that!

A: I was also very unfortunate once when I met a skunk in the grasslands of Alberta. The smell was awful!

B: The skunk must have been scared that's why it smelt that bad.

C: Let's hope we never have this experience

A: Yeah, at least not today!

B: Ok, bye and nice to meet you, Mia.

A and C: Bye!
