

Vocabulary Check

1. I still have some last-minute wrapping to do, because I'm a
2. The ultimate, he routinely had a half-dozen or more projects under contract at the same time, all of which would be seen to timely completion.
3. A is a person who works most of the time and finds it difficult to stop working in order to do other things.
4. But now, you're a betrayer, and a at that.
5. During the, over 25% of the workforce lost their jobs.
6. Being a doctor can be a job with long and exhausting work hours.
7. It was a movie, I couldn't take my eyes off the screen!
8. The come before six o'clock in the morning to collect out rubbish.
9. His job entailed the task of just watching monitor screens all day long.
10. My dad's all work with him on the building site.
11. Ann is trying to cope with the increased in her office.
12. There are various job advertised at this week's New York Times.
13. After having her baby, Helen went on for nine months.
14. He for stealing from his company.
15. I had no idea how well my plan would work, but it was the best I could come up with.'
16. It was more a small room, and it contained a.....of clothes.
17. The cold, damp winters require heavy coats, a and warm woolen clothes.
18. They more points in the new year than any other club, he says.
19. We operate a.....of six aircraft; one of which is used as a dedicated stand-by aircraft.
20. Imagine if built bridges with the same careless attention to fundamental engineering practices as many software developers.
21. We've been working for hours; let's and start again tomorrow.
22. John is the manager; he's the one who
23. On his first day at work someone Matt so he could understand his job.
24. He took time off work to