

Invertebrates: arthropods

They are the most animals in the Earth.

Their body is covered by an external called a cuticle.

We can classify arthropods in , according to the number of legs they have: