What's your favourite dessert?

We asked three British adults this question. Here are their answers:

A

Martin, Cardiff

My favourite dessert is apple pie. I'm quite good at making it! There's pastry at the top and bottom of the pie. I make the pastry with flour, butter and sugar. In the middle, I put apples, spices and sugar. I often make apple pie for my family on Sundays. I eat it with ice cream because I don't like cream. It's delicious!

B

Elsa, Norwich

My favourite dessert is banana split. When I was a child, I always had this dessert on my birthday. It's fun to make. First, cut a banana, and put some ice cream in the middle. Then put some cream on top. I add cherries, nuts and chocolate syrup too. Try it – it's the best dessert in the world!

C

Kevin, Exeter

My favourite dessert is Black Forest cake. People first started to make this cake in Germany. To make it, you need flour, sugar, butter, eggs, cherries, chocolate and cream. It isn't difficult to make. I love cherries and chocolate, so this dessert is perfect for me!
