IMPERATIVES

Classroom Commands Worksheet

The imperative form is a way to give clear instructions or simple orders. Your teacher gives you classroom commands using the imperative form to tell you and your classmates what to do.

Imperatives use the base form of the verb. Imperatives are formed without a subject because the subject is the person the speaker is talking to, e.g. 'You'.

Example:

Sit down

A. Match the classroom commands to the pictures and then write them in the boxes underneath the pictures.

Open the door. Don't eat in class. Look at the board. Stand up.
Raise your hand. Write. Work in pairs. Turn off your phone.
Close the door. Bring your book to class. Sit down. Listen.
