The screenshot shows an email client window. At the top, there are standard window controls (minimize, maximize, close) and a toolbar with icons for back, forward, and other functions. Below the toolbar, the email header is visible: "From: Jamila" and "To: Amaya". The subject line reads "Subject: Hello from Nova Scotia, Canada!". To the right of the subject line is a "SEND" button. The main body of the email contains three paragraphs of text. The first paragraph describes a holiday near the sea with surfing and snorkelling. The second paragraph describes a visit to an animal sanctuary. The third paragraph mentions sailing and seeing whales. The email ends with "Talk soon," and the name "Jamila".

From: Jamila To: Amaya

Subject: Hello from Nova Scotia, Canada!

My family is on holiday near the sea. The beach is beautiful and there are many activities to do. Every day, my sister goes surfing and my parents go snorkelling.

My favourite place is the animal sanctuary. It's a centre where vets take care of sea animals, like turtles or whales. Sometimes people find injured whales on the beach. Vets give them special medicine. When the whales are healthy, they leave again.

I go sailing every day, so I might see whales swimming through the water. I've only seen big sea animals on TV!

Talk soon,

Jamila
