

Title	(Choose and write your title here)....
General Identification	Statements that describe the common subject of the report, common description, and classification.
Description: • General Information • Specific Information	Tells about the phenomenon under discussion, in terms of parts, qualities, habits or behaviors. This section gives us an overview of commonly occurring phenomenon, either of its parts, its properties, habit, or behavior. The point is presenting elaboration of scientific classification. Description has two types of information. • General Information • Specific Information