Hi Becca,

You might to not know that tomorrow is World Animal Day. Every year on 4th October, people from all over the world celebrate this day by doing special things for animals. These kinds of activities must to make the lives of animals better. To celebrate this day, I've decided to go to the local animal shelter. The people there must not let me feed the dogs, but they may will let me take them for a walk. That can make some of the animals 'smile', don't you think? You may not have school tomorrow because it's Saturday, so why don't you come with me?

- Int. In the studio today, we have Maria here to talk to us about 'free schools'. Thanks for coming, Maria. So, tell us about free schools.
- Maria Well, teachers in free schools believe that students (1) shouldn't / must / have to sit in a classroom all day reading books. They want students to learn by doing things.
- Int. Interesting. Does this mean free schools (2) shouldn't / mustn't / don't have to follow the same rules as regular schools?
- Maria Exactly. They have more control over how they do things. However, there are things they still (3) have / should / mustn't to do.
- Int. Interesting! And I believe students at free schools (4) must to / shouldn't / don't have to do traditional lessons, is that correct?
- Maria Yes, that's right. But like in all schools, teachers (5) should / must / have to have the right qualifications.
- Int. I see. What qualifications do they need?
- Maria All free school teachers (6) have / shouldn't / must have a teaching licence. That's the law.
- Int. Interesting! Well, I think we (7) should / don't have to / must take a break and then we'll be back with more information.
