

Go through each expression, and match them according to how to use them correctly

To interrupt politely.

a. "Sorry, do go on." -

To briefly pause someone.

b. "What were you saying about ...?" -

When you want someone to continue after they were interrupted.

c. "Just a second." -

To prompt someone to continue after being interrupted.

d. "Do you mind if I cut in?" -

To bring the conversation back to a previous topic.

e. "Hang on." -

To ask someone to wait a moment.

f. "Sorry, you were saying?" -

Fill in the blank with the most accurate expression

Alex: So, I was thinking we could go to the new restaurant downtown this weekend.

Sam: That sounds great, but I think I might have plans already.

Jordan: _____ (interrupt politely) I just remembered that the new movie we wanted to see is also playing this weekend.

Alex: Oh, really? Maybe we can do both!

Sam: _____ (pause) I just need to check my schedule first.

Jordan: _____ (ask to continue) the new restaurant, have any of you seen reviews?

Alex: Yes, I heard it's amazing!

Sam: _____ (brief interruption) I think I saw a review on Facebook. Let me find it.

Jordan: _____ (prompt to continue) the review you found?

Sam: Here it is! It looks like the food is really good and the atmosphere is nice too.

Alex: Great! Let's make a plan then.

sorry, do go on

May I interrupt

What were you saying about...?

Just a second

Do you mind if I cut in?

Hang on

Sorry you were saying.

1.

Emma: I heard you went to the beach last weekend. How was it?

Olivia: It was amazing! The weather was perfect.

Emma: _____ (interrupt politely) Did you go surfing?

2.

John: I was telling you about my new job. It's really exciting!

Lisa: _____ (prompt to continue) your new job?

Look at the ideas and choose one expression to continue with the role-play

3.

Paul: I think we should consider a different approach for the project.

Mary: _____ (pause) Can you explain what you mean by that?

In pairs, decide who is going to speak and who is going to interrupt. Take turns to pick a topic and try to speak about it for a minute while your partner interrupts and tries to stop you from saying anything.

Favourite footballer or football team	The last party you went to	First time on a plane	Favourite food or drink
Something in the news that made you laugh	Favourite musician or band	An unusual place you've visited recently	First trip to another country
The strangest / funniest person in your family	First English conversation	Favourite book or film	The best football match you've ever seen