What a clever dog!

Last Saturday, Harry and his sister Emma went for a walk up a mountain near their house because it was a beautiful sunny day. They took their dog, Jack, with them. On the way up, they sang songs together and they were very happy.

At the top of the mountain, they ate their picnic, which was sandwiches, cake and lemonade. After lunch, they decided to go home. As they were walking down the mountain, Emma fell over and hurt her foot. She couldn't walk any more.

"Oh dear," she said. "What are we going to do?"

Harry said, "Don't worry, Emma. Jack's a clever dog and he can go for help."

Harry turned to Jack, pointed down the mountain and said loudly, "Jack, go home, go home and get help."

Jack looked at Harry and then he looked at Emma. Then he suddenly understood and he ran down the mountain as fast as he could. Harry stayed with Emma and held her hand.

After two hours, it began to get dark and the children were very afraid. Then they heard the sound of people talking and saw torch lights coming up the mountain.

Emma cried, "Dad, it's you!"

Dad said, "I'm so happy to see you both. When Jack came back without you, we knew something was wrong. What a brave dog!"

Dad picked Emma up and carried her down the hill. When they got home, everyone was very tired but happy.

Daisy finds treasure

One day, Daisy was helping her grandmother to tidy the basement of her house.

“Put all those old boxes in the big bin across the street, please Daisy,” said Grandma.

Daisy carried six boxes to the bin. It was hard work. The bottom of the last box was broken and when she picked it up, everything inside fell on the floor. Daisy was picking up all the pieces of paper when she found an interesting old green book. She opened it and saw it was a diary, which was more than 50 years old. She went upstairs and showed the diary to her grandmother.

“I don’t believe it!” said Grandma. “Where did you find this?”

“It was in one of those boxes, Grandma,” said Daisy.

“You’re very clever – I thought this was lost.”

“But what is it, Grandma?” asked Daisy.

“This is your grandfather’s diary. You know that he was a famous artist, don’t you?”

“Yes, I do. I’ve seen his paintings in the museum in town,” said Daisy.

The next day, Daisy and her Grandma took the diary to the museum. When the man who worked at the museum saw the diary, he was very excited.

“This is a great treasure!” he said. “Please could you give it to the museum so that lots of people can see it?”

Grandma was sad to lose the diary again but happy that it was in the museum where lots of people could read it.

A good name for Katy's kitten

One day last month, Katy wanted to get a new pet so she went to the pet shop in town to buy a kitten. When she looked at all the kittens in the shop, she couldn't decide which one to choose.

"Which one do you like?" asked the man who worked in the shop.

"It's very difficult," said Katy. "They are all lovely."

Then she saw a little black and white kitten, which was sitting in a corner of his cage, looking like he was sad.

"He's beautiful," said Katy. "But why is he so sad?"

"He was hiding up in a tree when someone found him," said the man.

"We don't know where his mother is so we're trying to find him a new home."

Katy opened the cage and picked up the kitten, which had soft fur, big brown eyes and a wet nose. He was very friendly and he looked happy to see Katy.

"I think he likes you!" said the man.

"I love him," said Katy. "I'll take him!"

"That's great," said the man. "What will you call him?"

"Well, he's black and white and he likes climbing trees. I think I'll call him Panda!" said Katy.

"That's an excellent name for him," said the man.
