K: Hi, Daisy. Are you thinking of taking part in that acting competition? Second prize is tickets for Emma Watson's new film. You're a big fan of her, aren't you?

D: She's my heroine. I think she's just brilliant. If she_____ her mind to it, she can do anything.

K: Aren't you _____her on pedestal? She was OK in the Harry Potter films, but she's not that great.

D: What! She's done so much more than Harry Potter. She _____up modelling and won a People's Choice award for the latest film.

K: Pretty impressive stuff, I suppose. Hasn't she got a degree in English, too?

D: She certainly has. She_____ some time off to promote her films, but she went back and completed her degree at Brown University.

K: OK, sorry – I _____back what I said. It's not fair, is it? Some people have all the luck. (it's all right for some)

D: Oh, Kerry! _____ it easy on yourself. You've been offered a part in Chicago. It's one of the best musicals ever. I think your acting career isa bout to _____off!

K: It's not a very big part. I'm just in the chorus.

D: Don't_____ yourself down. If you _____in enough effort, you'll become a star. You've got a great singing voice, too. At least they _____you on. That's an achievement in itself!

K: You're right, Daisy. Do you really think I have a good voice?

D: Yeah, I do. Our music coach has really _____to you. She thinks you've got real promise. You'll be famous one day.

K: We both will! Come on! Let's _____ our names down for this competition.

D: And if one of us wins, they'll have to _____the other out for a meal.

K: Deal!
