6. Listen again. Are the people responsible or irresponsible?

Useful language

- We use have to to describe obligation. It is similar to must.
You have to buy a ticket to ride the bus.
- The negative of have to is don't have to. It means there is no obligation.
We don't have to turn the music down before 11 PM.
- Remember that mustn't means do not. It expresses prohibition.
You mustn't ride the bus without buying a ticket. It's not allowed!

9. Read the rights a group of teenagers wrote. Can you think of one more to add to the list?

Your rights in a relationship

Happiness is something we make by being kind and loving to the special person in our life. Here are our rules for a strong relationship.

In a relationship, you have the right:

1. to choose your own friends. Nobody can decide this for you.
2. to follow your own path. The individual wishes of each person are important in a relationship.
3. to be in a healthy relationship where you share your love as equals.
4. to give your opinions. Your partner must respect them even if he/she has a different opinion.
5. to not have sex or to practise safe sex, if you choose.
6. to be with your boyfriend or girlfriend without emotional, physical or sexual abuse.

Glossary

- follow your own path: seguir tu camino
- wishes: deseos
- safe sex: sexo seguro

10. Look at Your rights in a relationship above. Are these rights easy or difficult to achieve?

Focus on Vocabulary

11. Read the description. Then decide if the words in the box are adjectives or nouns.

A noun is a thing, like a cat or a house.

An adjective describes nouns. It is a word like black or big.

7. Read about Carlos and Rob and answer the questions below.

a honest, understanding, respectful, encouraging, supportive

Carlos and Rob have been friends for about six months. Carlos has finally become the captain of the school basketball team. He goes to his friend's house to tell him.

Rob isn't interested in sports, but he's really pleased for Carlos and they talk about it a lot. Being on the basketball team makes Carlos feel great and Rob is happy for him.

Carlos wants Rob to watch one of his games, but they are always at the same time as Rob's computer class. Carlos feels disappointed, but he knows that Rob loves computers. He never makes Rob do things that he doesn't like.

They talk about the situation and Rob agrees to come to the final, if Carlos's team are in it. Now they're both happy. Rob's offer makes Carlos want to win every game so that his friend will be at the big match.

a. What words from exercise 3 could describe Carlos and Rob's relationship?

b. Tick the sentences that are true:

1. Rob and Carlos have different interests, but still support one another in the things that are important to them.
2. They don't feel they need to give up their individual interest.
3. Rob has to like basketball because Carlos does.
4. They are honest with each other.
