Watch the video "Do schools kill creativity?" and choose True or False.

1. Sir Ken Robinson believes that creativity is as important in education as literacy.

True / False

2. According to Robinson, schools should focus on academic subjects and disregard the arts.

True / False

3. Robinson claims that the education system is designed to produce university professors.

True / False

4. Robinson believes that schools are successful in nurturing creativity in all students.

True / False

5. Sir Ken Robinson suggests that creativity is a skill that can be taught and developed.

True / False

6. Robinson cites the example of how education systems in different countries handle creativity as evidence that creativity is a universal priority.

True / False

7. According to Robinson, the current education system was designed to meet the needs of the industrial age.   True / False

8. Robinson believes that all children are born with creative potential.

True / False

9. Robinson thinks that teachers are primarily responsible for the lack of creativity in schools.

True / False

10. Robinson advocates for a complete overhaul of the education system to better foster creativity.

True / False