|--|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
|  | Little Red Riding Hood learns a lesson about talking to strangers.                                                                                                  |
|  | Little Red Riding Hood's mother asks her to take a basket of food to her sick grandmother. On her journey, she encounters a sly wolf who learns of her destination. |
|  | Just as the wolf is about to pounce, a woodcutter bursts in and saves Little Red Riding Hood.                                                                       |
|  | Introduces Little Red Riding Hood, a young girl who lives with her mother in a village, and her grandmother who lives in a nearby village.                          |
|  | The wolf arrives at Grandmother's house and disguises himself as her. When Little Red Riding Hood arrives, the wolf plans to eat her.                               |
