Read the following descriptions of personal interests and free time preferences. Then, answer the Yes/No questions using the information from the texts.

Luke enjoys spending his free time by the water, fishing. He finds peace and excitement in recreational fishing. Luke loves the quiet of nature and the thrill of catching a fish. However, he does not like eating fried fish. He prefers to catch and release the fish, valuing the sport itself over eating the fish. Fishing helps him relax and enjoy nature without the need to cook or eat his catch.

Maria loves shopping. She finds joy in looking at new items and finding great deals. However, she hates trying on clothes. The changing rooms are her least favorite part of shopping. Because of this, Maria does most of her shopping online. This way, she can browse and buy without trying things on. Shopping online allows her to enjoy the fun parts of shopping while she avoids what she dislikes doing.

Jason loves music. He enjoys listening to different kinds of songs and is learning to play the piano. He finds joy in practicing and improving his skills. Jason does not mind learning classical music first. He knows it is important for his training. However, he is very excited to start learning modern melodies. He can't wait to play the songs he loves listening to. Music brings Jason happiness, and he looks forward to mastering both classical and modern pieces.
