

Emails 4

Ali Mohammed wants to write an email to his teacher. Help him.
Where do you write these? Drag and drop.

|                                          |                              |              |
|------------------------------------------|------------------------------|--------------|
| Ali Mohammed                             | nataliya.lyk@gmail.com       | Thank you,   |
| I am sorry.                              | Absent on Monday             | Hi Nataliya, |
| I have an eye test at 9 am.              | Please send me the homework. |              |
| I will be absent on Monday, August 12th. |                              |              |

The image shows an email composition window with a toolbar at the top containing icons for Send, Attach, Save Draft, Spelling, and Cancel. Below the toolbar are fields for 'To:' and 'Subject:'. The main body of the email is composed of several horizontal lines, each with a colored rectangular box for dragging text from the table above. The boxes are colored red, green, orange, blue, purple, yellow, blue, grey, and light green from top to bottom.