Cápsula cultural

It's Mr., Mrs., and Miss, right?

Well, in Spanish it's a little more complicated than that. But let's see how it works. First, the simple part:

Mr. = señor, Mrs. = señora, Miss = señorita

These three words can be used alone to attract attention:

¡Señor! ¡Señora! ¡Señorita!

These titles are used, as in English, before last or family names. For example:

(el) señor Rodríguez (la) señora Ortiz (la) señorita Vidal

However, in Spanish they can also be used before professional titles such as Lawyer, Teacher, Doctor, etc. We would get combinations such as: señor doctor, señora presidenta, etc.

In addition, there are two more ways to show respect for the elderly and respected members of the community. They are don and doña. They are either used with the first name—don Carlos, doña Rosa—or in front of the whole name—don Carlos Montoya, doña Rosa López.

All of these titles may be abbreviated (abbreviations are always capitalized).

señor – Sr. señora – Sra. señorita – Srta.

don – D. doña – Dña.

And finally, when addressing a letter, a combination of titles may be used: Sr. D. Pedro Mendoza, Sra. Dña. María García.
