

Reading and writing

Read the holiday messages people have sent to their friends.

Imagine you're having a four-day holiday. Plan where you are going and what you are doing on the days and times below. Write short messages (like the ones above) to friends for each of the days and times below.

- The evening before your holiday
- The first morning of your holiday
- The second and third days
- The last evening of your holiday
- The day after your holiday is over

A large, empty, light gray speech bubble shape for writing a message.

