Future Perfect Simple
The future perfect simple is a verb tense used for actions that will be completed before some point in the future. To form the future perfect tense use will have + past participle of the main verb .
Ex. The job fair will have ended by the time I get there.
Affirmative	Negative
I will have studied hard. He will have made a million dollars.	I won't have studied hard. He won't have made a million dollars.
Sentences in future perfect simple and sentences in simple future tense often have the same meaning. Ex. Margaret will leave before you arrive. Margaret will have left before you arrive.
Future perfect tense is most often used to show sequence with prepositions. Ex. At 6 p.m., Margaret will leave. (This means Margaret will wait until 6 p.m. to leave.) Margaret will have left by 6 p.m. (This means Margaret will leave before 6 p.m.)
