Questions 19 to 26

You are going to read an extract from an article. For questions 19 to 26, choose the correct answer (A, B, C or D) and mark the correct letter A, B, C or D on your answer sheet.

Welcome to the home of the future

[1] The 2009 British Homes Awards challenged the industry to design a house that can adapt to different life stages. The participants were asked to rethink the construction and design of individual homes so that they were easily adaptable to less mobile inhabitants, and also to create communities in which ageing occupants could continue to enjoy shared amenities. The top design also had to be attractive to its potential buyers, because the competition was put to the public vote. The winner, gaining 12,000 votes from Mail on Sunday readers, was the strikingly modern SunnySideUp, designed by Kosi Architects. Here are its three main features:

1. Upside Down House

[2] The architects took as a starting point the accepted norm for a house – rows of houses facing onto streets crammed with cars, with living rooms on the ground floor and bedrooms above. Then they scrapped it. They ended up with the living room, dining room and kitchen on the top floor where they can benefit from the light and views, and maximise energy efficiency. And they put the bedrooms on the ground floor where the garden aspect gives inhabitants increased privacy, and a cool temperature is maintained throughout the day. The two floors are linked by wide, Gentle gradient stairs, which are designed to allow for a stairlift to be fitted if necessary as owners age.

2. Concealed Parking Spaces

[3] But the feature that, according to Warren Rosing, one of the Kosi architects responsible for the design, was particularly popular with the public, is actually the parking. In a SunnySideUp development, no one has to look out onto a street full of cars or worry about their kids being run over because the terrace zone at the first-floor level links all the homes and is a car-free zone. Vehicles are tucked away on the lower floor, leaving safe and pleasant spaces outside the houses for people to meet, and kids to play. A lift takes people directly from the garage to the living area, so that all residents, including the elderly and those with heavy shopping, can move comfortably between the floors. The natural feel of the front area is enhanced by the planters that are placed outside the kitchens at the front to encourage residents to grow vegetables and flowers where they can be seen. The idea is that not only would they look pretty, but they would be a talking point, encouraging interaction between residents on the terrace area outside.

3. Flexible Spaces

[4] But it's the fact that space is designed to adapt to the changing needs, including the fluctuating income of its owners, that makes it a thought-provoking, as well as winning, design. The lower-floor bedrooms have separate outdoor access so they can be easily let. The idea is that owners can get some extra money to pay for their mortgages during the first years. And later in the future, those bedrooms can be used as a granny flat, or an office, and can easily be converted into a separate one-bed flat if your kids won't leave home. And if more space is required, as well as the usual loft that can be converted, there is potential for a gallery floor to be inserted in the living room.

4. Where can you get one?

[5] At the moment the SunnySideUp house is still just a set of drawings. But Warren Rosing says, "We are hoping to have it built." The organisers are in talks with builders, but due to the economic climate it may take longer than we would like." We're sure it will be worth the wait" they say.

- 19 In paragraph 1, The British Homes Awards challenged architects to design a house
- A for disabled people
 - B for ageing inhabitants
 - C that could adapt to all ages
 - D for young families with children
- 20 In paragraph 1, the word 'inhabitants' can best be replaced with
- A Occupants

- 21 In paragraph 2, in the winning property, bedrooms are downstairs to

- A benefit from the view
 - B have easier access to the house
 - C have more privacy in the living room
 - D keep the same pleasant atmosphere the whole day
- 22 In paragraph 3, the parking spaces in this house design are
- A on the first floor
 - B on the ground floor
 - C in a separate building
 - D in the street
- 23 In paragraph 3, we learn that
- A children can play safely outside the house
 - B the houses overlook a street crammed with cars
 - C the back garden is the main talking point for the inhabitants
 - D the house can be transformed into a kindergarten
- 24 In paragraph 4, in the SunnySideUp house the ground floor
- A can be rented
 - B can be sold separately
 - C is only used to store cars
 - D has a room for grandparents
- 25 In paragraph 4, the house has been designed
- A to be rented
 - B to be shared if necessary
 - C for families with a small income
 - D for the elderly
- 26 In paragraph 5, the SunnySideUp development
- A is being built
 - B will never be built
 - C will hopefully be built
 - D has been recently built

Questions 27 to 32

You are going to read an article about celebrities. Six sentences have been removed from the article. Choose from the sentences A to H the one which fits each gap (27 to 32). There are two extra sentences which you do not need to use.

For each question, mark the correct answer (A-H) on your answer sheet.

A Beloved Grandmother

Sneha had been taken care of by her paternal grandmother since she was a new-born. Her mother had passed away while giving birth to her. Her grandmother was loving and caring but was also firm when Sneha needed to be disciplined. Sneha rarely saw her father as he often had to go overseas for business.

Soon it was time for Sneha to go to college. 27. She was excited to go to college but at the same time she felt sad to leave her grandmother. She promised she would come and visit her as often as she could.

One day during her semester break, Sneha went back home. 28. Grandma was very glad to see her. She was so busy chatting with Sneha that she forgot about the cake which was in the oven. The cake was burnt. Grandma was very angry with herself. She then confessed this was not the first time that she forgot she was baking something and the food got burnt. 29.

During the next visit, Sneha's grandmother looked confused when Sneha greeted her. 30. Sneha felt worried. Her father was home at that time and so she told him her worries about Grandma. Her father too had noticed that she was no longer her usual self. They decided to take her to a doctor.

The doctor pronounced that Sneha's grandmother had Alzheimer's and at the moment there was no cure. Sneha broke down and cried. She never expected this to happen to Grandma. Her father decided to get a caretaker for her. Sneha told him that they did not need a caretaker, 31.

Sneha's father agreed to her coming back home but he still wanted her to continue her studies. He said Sneha could go to a college in her hometown. She agreed to his decision. Sneha and her father then got a caretaker for Grandma. 32. Whenever Sneha went to college or was busy studying, Flora would take care of Grandma. However whenever Sneha was free, she herself would take care of her.

Even though Grandma got progressively worse later and did not even know who she was, Sneha still felt glad that she was taking care of her. Her grandmother had done so much for her. Sneha felt it was time she repaid her beloved grandmother for everything.

- A She found her grandmother baking in the kitchen.
- B Instead, she would come back home and take care of Grandma.
- C Sneha helped her grandmother bake a cake.
- D Her hometown was in Johor Bahru while her college was in Kuala Lumpur.
- E The caretaker was a nice lady called Flora.
- F She only recognised Sneha after a long time.
- G The caretaker liked taking care of Sneha's grandmother.
- H Sneha did not think anything of it and assumed it was just normal forgetfulness due to old age.

The Taj Mahal (pronounced /tɑːdʒ m'hɑːl/) is a famous mausoleum next to the river Yamuna in the Indian city of Agra. A mausoleum is a building where people bury the dead. The name Taj Mahal means 'the crown of palaces'.

[A] The most famous part of the Taj Mahal is the large white dome in the centre. It is 35 metres high and is surrounded by four smaller domes. The rooms inside the building are decorated with beautiful archways and precious stones on the walls. The buildings are surrounded by gardens with pathways, pools, fountains and green gardens.

[B] The construction of the Taj Mahal began in 1632 and finished in 1653. It was built with materials from all over India and Asia, but the main material is white marble. Historians believe that the materials were transported by over 1,000 elephants for the construction.

[C] The emperor Shah Jahan built the Taj Mahal as a burial place for his wife, Mumtaz Mahal. According to legend, he wanted to build another Taj Mahal in black on the other side of the river, but this never happened. During the Indian Rebellion of 1857, many parts of the Taj Mahal were damaged by British soldiers, who took some of the precious stones from its walls. Over the years, the Taj Mahal has suffered from environmental damage, and there have been many government attempts to conserve its beauty.

[D] The Taj Mahal is one of India's most famous landmarks. There are millions of visitors to the mausoleum every year. The Taj Mahal is almost always included in lists of famous buildings to visit and is considered one of the New Seven Wonders of the World. It is also a UNESCO World Heritage Site.
