Have or have got?

1 Tick the correct sentence in each pair.

- 1 a I'd got a terrible headache all day yesterday.
b I had a terrible headache all day yesterday.
- 2 a I hope you have fun on the sailing course next week.
b I hope you have got fun on the sailing course next week.

We can use either have or have got to talk about owning or possessing something, or to describe personal characteristics:

She's got a bad temper. = She has a bad temper.

We have a new car. = We've got a new car.

We use have, not have got, to talk about actions or experiences in expressions such as have lunch, have a bath, have difficulty, have fun, have an accident, have a holiday, etc.

We don't usually use have got in the past or the future.

I usually have fun when I see Marcus. (Not ~~I usually have got fun ...~~)

I had a pet rabbit when I was young. (Not ~~I had got a pet rabbit ...~~)

2 Correct the mistake below.

I've often got difficulty with phrasal verbs.

I ..... with phrasal verbs.

3 Complete the sentences with the correct form of have or have got.

- 1 ..... ~~Did you have~~ ..... (you) a good holiday last week?
- 2 What time ..... ~~(she / usually)~~ lunch?
- 3 Mahmoud ..... his own business in London, but he's hardly ever there.
- 4 I'll have to do some overtime. I ..... any money at the moment.
- 5 He can't walk very well at the moment, he ..... an accident last week.
- 6 My sister ..... very long hair when she was young.
- 7 Her new boyfriend ..... a very good sense of humour. He never gets a joke.
- 8 The reception on this line's not very good, what are you doing?
'I ..... a bath!'

When do I use the present perfect?

1 Tick the best sentence in each pair.

- 1 a That writer won a prize last year for his new novel.
b That writer's won a prize last year for his new novel.
- 2 a Regina's been a secretary since 1999, even though she finds it very dull.
b Regina is a secretary since 1999, even though she finds it very dull.

We use the present perfect:

- to talk about events that are relevant now or happened recently:
Where's my mobile? It's disappeared!
- to refer to something that happened at some time in our lives, when the time is not important and not stated:
I've met one of South America's most famous writers.
- to talk about something that started in the past and continues now (often with for or since to show how long):
I've worked in London for five years. (I work there now.)
I've lived in that flat since 1998. (I live there now.)
(not ~~I live in that flat since 1998.~~)

We use the past simple to talk about events in the past or if we refer to a finished time:

I worked in London for five years but now I work in Sydney.

2 Correct the mistake below.

Have you ever been to Prague?

Yes, I've been there when I was a student.

Yes, I ..... a student.

3 Are these sentences right or wrong? Correct those which are wrong.

- 1 It's our anniversary. We ~~are married~~ for ten years. We have been married.
- 2 This is the fourth time I've called but there's still no reply. ....
- 3 There's no milk left; someone's drunk it all. ....
- 4 I have worked as a translator when I lived in Spain. ....
- 5 Where's John? I haven't seen him since ages. ....
- 6 I never ate Japanese food before, so I'd be curious to try it. ....
- 7 How many times did you turn up late for work last month? ....
- 8 How many plays has Shakespeare written? ....

When do I use the past perfect?

1 Tick the correct sentence in each pair.

- 1 a Sarah looked different because she had lost weight.
b Sarah looked different because she lost weight.
- 2 a I'd worked for five years by the time I started college last year.
b I'd worked for five years by the time I'd started college last year.

We use the past perfect when we talk about the past and we want to refer to something that happened before this:

By the time the fire brigade arrived, the building had burnt down.

The dog ran down the street. It had jumped out of the car.

★ Notice how we often use the past perfect and the past simple together.

We often use the past perfect after a reporting verb in the past:

David asked me if Sarah had lost weight.

We often use the past perfect when we talk about past events out of sequence. To talk about events in the same order as they happened, we use the past simple:

The dog jumped out of the car. It ran down the street. (after jumping out of the car)

2 Correct the mistake below.

Two years ago I had been to Greece.
I had sailed around the islands.

Two years ago ..... around the islands.

3 Complete the sentences using the correct form of the verbs.

- 1 She asked me if I ..... had seen ..... (see) her cat.
- 2 When Paul started university he ..... (never live) away from home before.
- 3 There's no point in going now! We ..... (miss) the start of the film.
- 4 We arrived at the party at midnight, but most people ..... (leave) by then.
- 5 I was held up at work, so by the time I ..... (arrive), they ..... (stop) serving hot food.
- 6 Typical! Just as I got into the bath the telephone ..... (ring)!
- 7 When she got home she ..... (realise) she ..... (forget) her keys.
- 8 Why didn't you tell me you ..... (change) your telephone number?
