

A. Listen and read.

Conjunctions are used to join two words, or phrases, together in a sentence. They help us express complex ideas with longer sentences.

* While - It's used to indicate two actions happening simultaneously.

* Example: I studied for my exam while listening to music.

* When - It's used to indicate a specific time or occasion.

* Example:

* When I went to Tikal, I learned about Mayan Culture

* However - It's used to introduce a contrast or contradiction to the previous idea.

* Example: She is very talented; however, she lacks confidence.

* Although - It's used to introduce a concession or contrast to the previous idea.

* Example: Although it was raining, we decided to go for a walk.
