

MOON RABBIT

Many people see a rabbit on the moon. This has been true for many years. Many myths try to explain why. Here is one from the East.

A monkey, a dog, and a rabbit were friends. A special day was coming. Together they decided to do good deeds. The one who did the most on that day would win a prize.

They met an old man. He asked for food. The monkey gave fruits from the trees. The dog gave meat he hunted. The rabbit offered its own body instead.

The old man then revealed himself to be a god. He was most touched by the rabbit's goodness. He drew a picture of the rabbit on the moon that everyone could see. That is why there's a rabbit on the moon.
