<h3>Instruments of the future</h3> By Kumal Today many instruments are made of brass, metal or wood. What will the instruments of the future be like? Well, I think people in the future won't make music only with instruments. They will also make music with computers and laptops. My parents have got a tablet. I use it to play video games in the afternoons, but I also make songs for my friends. First, I touch the screen to choose sounds from different instruments. I like the piano, the saxophone, the drums and the tambourine. Then, I put the sounds in order. Finally, I listen to the music through my speakers. It's very easy! I think robots will be famous musicians and artists in the future, too! What do you think?
