Phonetics I

VOWELS

•Choose the correct definition of VOWEL

A

A vowel is a sound produced without the contact of articulators, that can be voiced or voiceless and is classified depending on the height of the tongue, part of tongue that is raised, and lips position

B

A vowel is a sound produced without the contact of articulators, that can be only voiced and is classified depending on the height of the tongue, part of tongue that is raised, and lips position

C

A vowel is a sound produced without the contact of articulators, that can be only voiced and is classified depending on manner of articulation, place of articulation and voicing.

LIVEWORKSHEETS