

This happened in Australia, when I was about twenty-five. I spent a few days at a hotel in Alice Springs and went to Ayers Rock and, well, anyway, one day, I went out for a walk, in the outback. It was a lovely day so I walked and walked, and then I I didn't really know where I was. I was a bit stupid, really, because I decided to go further. I guess I thought I'd find the way back.

Um, anyway, after that I heard some dogs. First I heard them barking, and then I saw them – there was a group – maybe five or six dogs, wild dogs, coming towards me. I felt really frightened, but I remembered some I, I read in my guide book: don't move, and don't look at the dogs. So I froze, like a statue – I didn't move and I looked at a tree, not at the dogs, and didn't move my eyes. The dogs were all around me, jumping and I thought they were going to bite me. Then one dog did bite my arm, just a little, but still, I didn't move.

In the end, after about twenty minutes, the dogs went away. I stayed there for a few minutes and then luckily, found my way back to the hotel. It was the most frightening experience I've ever had!
