

1 Read Sam's email. What is happening next month? Complete the email with the phrases in the box.

hoping to (x2) is set 'll be waiting 'm considering may still be planning
 's expected should shouldn't supposed to thinking of

Hi Angie,

I'm really looking forward to seeing you next month. Thanks for sending through your arrival details, I <sup>1</sup> _____ for you at the airport at 10 a.m. on the 3rd May.

It's <sup>2</sup> _____ be warming up, so don't forget to pack your swimming costume, as I'm <sup>3</sup> _____ to take you to a gorgeous lake. I'm also <sup>4</sup> _____ show you the local markets. They <sup>5</sup> _____ have some amazing fresh berries at this time of year.

For a day trip, I'm <sup>6</sup> _____ take you to our nearest castle. It has been closed for restoration but it <sup>7</sup> _____ to re-open to the public any day now. Apparently, it <sup>8</sup> _____ to become a popular film location!

I wondered if you could let me know how long you are <sup>9</sup> _____ staying. I guess you <sup>10</sup> _____ working out your plans. It's just that I <sup>11</sup> _____ taking a few days off work to show you around. It <sup>12</sup> _____ be a problem because I've saved up plenty of leave.

I can't wait to catch up, it's been far too long!

2 Imagine a family member or friend is coming to stay. Write an email to them, sharing your plans for their visit. Use at least four different future tenses.

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---