

Two fascinating mammals

This mammal has got black and white stripes on its legs, but it isn't a zebra. It has got long legs like a giraffe. Its face is like a giraffe's face and it has got a very long tongue like a giraffe. However, its neck is shorter than a giraffe's neck. What is it? It's an okapi.

Okapis live in African rainforests. They are herbivores. They use their long tongues to pull leaves from the trees. They don't need long necks because they don't eat leaves from tall trees.

This animal lays eggs, but it isn't a reptile. It has a beak like a duck, but it isn't a bird. It is a very strange animal. Its feet are like a duck's feet and it has got a big, wide tail. It can sting you with its feet! What is it? It's a platypus.

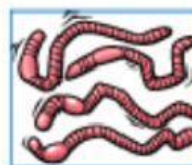

Platypuses are mammals and they live in Australia. They live on land and in water. They use their tails to swim and they find their food in the water. They are carnivores. They eat insects, fish and worms.

Do you know...?

Only two types of mammals lay eggs.
The other one is the echidna. The echidna lives in Australia, too.

Glossary
