

PART 2

1. Describe an online video where you learned something new

One online video that helped me learn something new was a _____ on how to bake a chocolate cake. I watched this video about _____ ago on YouTube while I was at home. I had always wanted to try baking, but I didn't know where to start, so I decided to _____ some easy _____ online.

The video was made by a _____ baker, and it explained all the _____ really _____, from preparing the _____ to mixing the batter and putting it in the oven. I chose to watch it because the cake looked delicious, and I thought it would be fun to try making it myself. Also, I had all the _____ at home, _____ so I could follow along right away.

From this video, I learned a lot about baking _____ that I didn't know before, like how to _____ ingredients properly and how to _____ if the cake is baked all the way through. The most important thing I learned was that baking is _____ not as _____ as I thought, as long as you follow the _____ carefully.

Overall, I _____ the video really _____, and it made me more _____ in the kitchen. _____ then, I've tried baking a few more cakes, and each time I _____ a little bit. I'm really _____ I watched that video because it opened up a new _____ for me.

2. Describe an old friend you have lost touch with and got in touch with again .

An old friend I lost _____ with and recently got in _____ with is my high school _____, Mai. We were very close in high school, and we used to spend a lot of time _____ studying and _____ after school. We _____ each other because we were in the same class for three years.

However, after graduating, we _____ contact because we went to different _____ in different cities. Both of us got busy with our _____ and new friends, so we didn't really keep in touch. We just kind of drifted apart _____.

A few months ago, I _____ her on Facebook while _____ through my old contacts, and I decided to send her a _____. To my surprise, she replied almost _____, and we started _____ again. It was really nice to _____ up after so many years. We even had a video _____, where we talked about our lives, work, and the _____ we shared from high school.

After reconnecting, I felt really happy and a bit nostalgic. It was like no time had _____, and we could talk to each other _____, just like before. It made me _____ how important it is to stay in touch with old friends, even if life gets busy. We've promised to keep in contact more _____ now.

3. Describe a person who is good at making things by hand (toys, furniture, ...)

A person I know who is good at making things by hand is my _____. He's very _____, especially _____ to woodworking and making furniture. Ever since I was young, I've seen him _____ amazing things like tables, chairs, and even _____, all from scratch. He doesn't need any fancy tools, just the basic _____, and he can turn a simple piece of wood into something beautiful.

He mostly makes furniture, but sometimes he also creates small _____ toys for children. Whenever we have family _____, he would bring along something he made, and everyone is always _____ by his work.

I feel really _____ whenever I see something he has made by hand. It's not just the skill, but also the _____ he puts into each piece. I'm always surprised by how _____ and focused he is while working, and I _____ how much _____ he pays to the smallest _____.

The reason he's so good at making things by hand is because he has years of _____, and he's very _____ about it. He also learned from his father, so it's kind of a family _____. He loves working with his hands, and I think that _____ is what makes his creations so _____ and _____.

4. Describe something you lost which is important.

Something important I lost was my favorite _____. It wasn't very expensive, but it had a lot of sentimental _____ because it was a gift from my parents for my _____ birthday. I had worn it _____ every day since then, so it was really _____ to me.

I lost it about six months ago when I was traveling. I think I lost it at the _____ while I was waiting for my _____. I remember taking it off to go through the _____ check, but I must have _____ to put it back on after _____ my things. I realized it was _____ when I was already on the _____, and by then, it was too _____ to go back and look for it.

After losing the watch, I felt really _____ and _____. It wasn't just because I had lost a _____ item, but more because of the _____ connection I had with it. I even called the airport's lost and found, but they couldn't find it, which made me feel even _____.

The _____ this watch was so important to me is because it was a _____ of a special _____ in my life. It _____ my transition into adulthood, and every time I wore it, I felt a sense of _____. Losing it made me _____ how much it meant to me, and I still feel a little sad when I think about it.

5. Describe the most expensive item you have ever bought.

The most expensive item I've ever bought was a new laptop. I bought it last year from an _____ store in the city. At the time, I really needed a good laptop because my old one was _____ and kept _____. I spent a lot of time _____ different _____ online before I finally decided on one.

I bought it mainly for work and study. I use it every day to write _____, do _____, and also for _____ like watching movies or playing games. It was quite expensive, but I knew I needed something _____ that would last for a long time.

At first, I was a bit _____ about spending so much money on one thing, but after using it for a while, I realized it was a great _____. The laptop runs _____, and it has made my work and study much easier. _____, it's _____ and has a long _____ life, so I can take it with me when I need to study _____ of home.

Overall, I'm really happy with my _____. Even though it was the most expensive thing I've ever bought, I think it was _____ the money because it's helped me a lot in my daily life. I don't _____ buying it at all.