Name: _____ 6th grade / Group: _____ Product 6

School: _____ CCT: _____

I. Look at the pictures and answer the following questions

1.- What is the name of the following traditions?

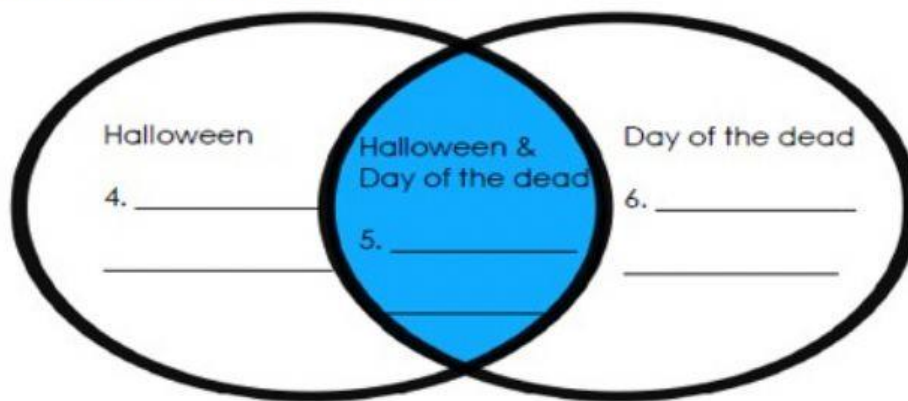

2.- When are those traditions celebrated?

_____ and _____

3.- Where do people celebrate the Day of the Dead?

_____ and _____

II. Complete the Venn Diagram. Write the differences and a similarity of the Halloween and day of the dead traditions. (1 of each one)

III. Read the following text. Underline with blue the opening expression (Expression to begin), with red the expression to contrast similarities and differences, with purple a connector and with yellow an adjective (describing words).

First of all, both are traditions celebrated once a year. Day of the Dead is not the "Mexican Halloween" like it is sometimes mistaken to be because of the timing of the year. Even though Halloween is a spooky celebration, kids seem very happy. The Day of the Dead is a celebration where people celebrate death; However, people are not sad during this day. Thus, participants believe that their dead relatives are actually present during the festivities. People use decorations in both celebrations but the materials used are different. In conclusion, people have their own way to celebrate their traditions and beliefs.
