

All _____ the coronation of King Charles the _____.
 So who is King Charles III?
 He was born on the _____
 of _____ in Buckingham Palace.
 His full name is Charles Phillip Arthur George.
 His _____ were Queen Elizabeth the II and Prince Philip.
 He was the eldest child and therefore was next in line for the throne.
 King Charles the III has two _____, these are Prince William and Prince Harry. He _____ Camilla Parker Bowel in _____. At the time King Charles the III was known as The Prince of Wales, and Camilla was given the title Duchess of Cornwall as they _____.

 With his ascent to the throne in _____ she became the _____ Consort.

Queen Elizabeth the II died on _____. When this occurred, he automatically became king, although the official Proclaim did not take place until the _____. So, what is a coronation?

A coronation is a _____ where a king or a queen is officially given the crown of the _____.
 Some people say it is almost like a marriage ceremony between the Monarch and their country.

The coronation of King Charles the III will take place on _____

It will take place at Westminster Abbey. For the past _____ years the Coronation of the British Monarch has taken place here.

In _____ Harold the II was the first to be crowned there.

Since _____, the _____

has nearly always been done by the Archbishop of Canterbury (this is the leader of the Church of England) and this post is currently held by a man called Justin Welby.

This is only the second Coronation ever to be televised!

The exciting thing about the Coronation of _____ Elizabeth the II was that it was the _____ to be televised. Many _____ bought their first-ever television just to watch the coronation.

The Coronation service for the _____ monarch has been the same for around a _____ years.

The Sovereign makes an important promise called the coronation oath. After the anointing,

The Sovereign is given the Orb and Sceptre before having the crown placed on their head, these are known as The Crown Jewels. The Coronation of King Charles the II will be a historical event, for many people, this will be the first coronation of the British monarch that they will ever see as the last one was _____ years ago. So, will you be watching the coronation of King Charles the II on May 6th?

