STONEHENGE

JOHN'S BLOG

There are many stone circles in Britain, but the most famous is Stonehenge. Our guidebook (1) _____ (say) that it (2) _____ (not be) very far from London. So when we visited the UK last summer, we (3) _____ (take) a coach there and it (4) _____ (be) awesome! Stonehenge is over 5,000 years old, but people (5) _____ (not start) studying the stones until the 1660s.

Nobody could agree on where the stones (6) _____ (come) from, who (7) _____ (build) the circle or why. According to the legend, Irish giants (8) _____ (travel) to Africa to look for the stones. Then they (9) _____ (carry) them back to Ireland. In the 5th century, the wizard Merlin (10) _____ (help) King Aurelius Ambrosius move the stones from Ireland to Salisbury Plain in England. Another great story is that aliens (11) _____ (use) the area to land their spacecraft.

Now, there are two main types of people. Some believe that Stonehenge (12) _____ (be) a place for religion, but others think people (13) _____ (watch) the sun, moon, and stars from there. It doesn't matter to me because it's a very cool place.
