My favourite films are based on true stories, and my favourite one is 127 Hours. Which are yours?

VICKY

I think First Man is a fantastic film. It's the true story of NASA's mission to the moon in the 1960s. Ryan Gosling gives a great performance in the lead role of astronaut Neil Armstrong. The supporting actor is Corey Stoll as Armstrong's co-astronaut, Buzz Aldrin. The astronauts leave Earth on the Apollo 11 spaceship on an exciting and dangerous mission. It's an incredible story about two heroes – the first humans to walk on the moon.

BRAD

I recommend Only the Brave with actors Josh Brolin, Miles Teller, Jeff Bridges and Jennifer Connelly. It's the story of a forest fire in Arizona, USA in 2013. The fire was caused by lightning, near the town of Yarnell. The people in the town were all in danger. A group of 20 firefighters tried to control the fire, but strong winds were pushing the fire quickly towards the town. It was very dangerous and only one of the firefighters survived. The film is very sad, but I think it's important. It shows how brave firefighters are.

DINA

The Glass Castle is an inspiring film about the life of the writer Jeannette Walls. Jeannette had an awful life while she was growing up. Her family were poor and Jeannette and her brother and sisters were always hungry. Even when there was a little food in the house, their mother rarely cooked. So Jeannette prepared her own meals from the age of three. Her parents moved 20 times and eventually, they lived in a disgusting house with no water or electricity. But Jeannette was strong and didn't give up hope of a better life.
