

Ordering Chronologically

- Read the text and arrange the events in chronological order.

He had decided to take a year out in order to get some experience in the real world.

That autumn he was back at university studying law.

He was in charge of the machine that put the packs of eggs into large boxes ready to go to supermarkets around the country.

He had broken more than twelve thousand eggs.

Then he got a part-time job in a tea room.

He enrolled at Reading University.