

Documentary research is a valuable _____ for students to find out detailed information on various _____ by gathering data from multiple _____ such as _____, _____ and _____. This research technique encourages students to _____ deeply and indagate into _____, economic, social, and _____ topics—key areas often explored in Model United Nations (MUN) simulations. _____ sources like those with domain extensions such as _____ (educational institutions), _____ (government organizations), and _____ (non-profits) generally offer accurate, authoritative information. While _____ (commercial) websites may also provide useful data, it's important to verify these sources due to their potential for _____ or promotional content. By using documentary research, _____ can develop a well-rounded understanding of _____, preparing them for thoughtful debate and _____ decision-making in MUN _____.

