

What do the roots do?

The roots absorb water and minerals from the soil.

What does the stem do?

The stem supports the plant and transports water and minerals around it.

What do the leaves do?

The leaves make food for the plant using air, water and sunlight.