VOCABULARY BOOSTER

A. Translate the words in bold according to the context of the sentence.

1. Some drivers actually put in their contact lenses while they are at the controls of a car. _____
2. Nineteen percent of drivers admitted sending text messages on their cell phones while driving. _____
3. Spilling something on your suit while driving is nothing compared to cutting yourself while shaving in your car. _____
4. Consider what would happen if a driver spilled something on his suit while driving. _____
5. Turning on the radio or putting on music while driving is not especially distracting. _____
6. Bill Windsor, a safety expert, says that drivers should be focused while driving. _____
7. An accident could easily occur when a driver takes out a tissue to wipe off his suit. _____
8. Some of the activities that people admitted doing while driving are almost too outrageous to be believed. _____
9. Bill Windsor is not pleased with the results of the survey. _____
10. Sandra Guile points out that sometimes the results of the activity can be more distracting than the activity itself. _____
11. Eating or drinking doesn't require much concentration. _____
12. A recent survey of American drivers reveals that most drivers do a lot more than just driving. _____
13. Being involved with other activities puts drivers and their passengers at risk. _____
14. If a driver spills something on his suit while driving, he could easily get into an accident while taking out a tissue to wipe off his suit. _____
15. Windsor's advice to drivers is very straightforward: Don't do anything in the car that can be done in the kitchen, bathroom, office, or bedroom. _____

LIVEWORKSHEETS